

Zoom on Toby Meyer, CEO

Following his initial studies in Chemical Engineering in 1992, Toby Meyer defended a Ph.D. thesis on solid-state Dye Solar Cells in Prof. Grätzel's laboratory at EPFL in 1996. Thanks to his research works, he subsequently co-founded the company Soloronix with his twin brother Andreas. Since then, Toby Meyer operates as the CEO of Soloronix, and fully devotes his time to the company growth.
